

BOAT

International

ART OF GLASS

How superyachts are going clear

DOUBLE ACT

Should you add a support yacht to your fleet?

DESIGN REPORT

Your guide to the world's best style

PLUS
One owner's mission to save a 60-year-old Feadship

STILL LIFE

INSIDE THE SANLORENZO BUILT FOR CALM

£7.00

FROM THE TAJ MAHAL TO TOWER BRIDGE: the new age of jet-set adventure

Voyage Edit

New hotels in the Med

SAN DOMENICO PALACE, TAORMINA, SICILY

Sicily's historical San Domenico Palace – frequented by everyone from Oscar Wilde to Sophia Loren – reopens this spring as part of the Four Seasons Group. Set in a former Dominican monastery overlooking Mount Etna and the famous Greek theatre, and complete with two-Michelin-star restaurant Principe Cerami, it's the perfect spot to start your Sicilian sojourn before cruising north to the Aeolian Islands. fourseasons.com

CAN FERRERETA, MALLORCA
A restored 17th-century mansion, this five-star, 32-room boutique hotel in the south-eastern town of Santanyí is the perfect retreat for those longing for some quiet time in the Balearics. Book the pool suite with its own private garden for ultimate privacy, but don't miss out on the local scene with its crafts market, held every Saturday. hotelcanferrereta.com

KALESMA MYKONOS

Foodies have a new address to visit in Mykonos. Owned by the restaurateurs behind Athens' Pere Ubu and Sea Spice, Kalesma opens this season in Ornos Bay, with two villas and 25 suites all boasting private heated pools. Arranged to resemble a traditional Greek village, they are positioned strategically to enjoy both sunrise and sunset views. kalesmamykonos.com

CHÂTEAU DE LA MESSARDIÈRE, SAINT-TROPEZ

Built in the 19th century and donated to famous horseman Henry Brisson de la Messardière and his fiancée Louise Dupuy d'Angeac as a wedding gift, Château de La Messardière has been given a major facelift under the direction of star hotel designer Christophe Tollemer. It is scheduled to open for the 2021 season on 1 July. airelles.com

